Ada County Commissioner Dave Case has been appointed the 2018 chairman of the Community Planning Association of Southwest Idaho (COMPASS) Board of Directors, according to a press release from Ada County.

The COMPASS Board is made up of local elected officials, including Meridian Mayor Tammy de Weerd, city councilmembers, and county and highway district commissioners. According to COMPASS, the board serves as a regional forum for making decisions about transportation and related planning and sets priorities for spending federal transportation funds.

Case has served on the COMPASS Board of Directors since 2010. He served as vice-chairman of the board in 2017.
